

IRO WCH 2024 Code of Conduct

IRO WCH 2024 is a joyful event that brings people together, and it is conducted according to the principles of a safe space, respecting other people, dogs, and the environment.

We all share responsibility for maintaining a positive atmosphere: the event organizers, staff, participants, and the audience. Together, we create a community event where everyone can feel safe and be themselves.

Take care

Take care of yourself and others – dare to care!

Respect others

Respect people of different backgrounds and cultures. At the IRO WCH 2024 event, any form of harassment, discrimination, or inappropriate behavior towards people or animals will not be tolerated.

Offer help

Help those in need and intervene if you witness inappropriate behavior. If necessary, ask for help from the people around you or the nearest staff member.

Protect nature

Respect nature: dispose of trash properly and pick up after your dogs.

Everyone has the right to enjoy the event safely and authentically – contribute to overall safety with your actions and encourage your friends to do the same.

Thank you for following the event's code of conduct and helping us create a safe event.
